Am 1:36

Little Tiny Babies

Lyrics: copyright 1986 by Stephen Savitzky Some Rights Reserved¹. Music: To the tune of "Little Fuzzy Animals" by Frank Hayes

 Am
 Dm

 When you go to a convention you may not like what you hear
 Am

 Am
 Em

 There are Dorsai toting blasters which they discharge in your ear
 Am

 Am
 Dm

 There are Neos asking questions, filkers try to harmonize
 Am

 Am
 Em

 Am
 Em

 Am
 Em

 An
 Em

 An
 Em

 $\begin{array}{c} & Am\\ Little tiny babies, little teeny babies\\ Am & Em & Am\\ Little tiny babies making big loud cries.\\ \end{array}$

Now not all of the noise you hear should fill you with dispair For the Dorsai all drink Tully, and might have a drop to spare. The neos all are horney and some even like to filk But the little tiny babies only want more milk.

Now when morning hits the con-suite blessed silence fills the air. There are whiskey-sodden Dorsai fast asleep in every chair. The Neos all have gone to bed (not necessarily their own) the filkers close their eves-

Then the little tiny babies think it's time to rise.

When you go to a convention now you'll know what lies in store: There are lots of raucous parties where there's booze and sex galore, But when it comes to babies now you'll know what you must do: Better use a contraceptive or you'll have one too!

No refrain after last verse

¹This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike 3.0 US License.